"Radical" Dread Word.
Try a Mexican Mandate.
A Gambler Dies.
Definite Figures.
—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright 1920.)

William W. Morrow, one of the oldest judges on the United States bench, indorsing Hiram Johnson, says his enemies call him a radical, just as others of the same kind called Lincoln a radical sixty years ago.

They called Lincoln more than "a radical." They said he was living with a black woman and wanted to know whether he had married her. You will hear other things about Johnson before the campaign ends, but, as in the case of Lincoln, they won't fool the people.

Why, by the way, should the word "radical" applied to a presidential candidate, be considered so deadly?

The definition of a radical is "one that goes to the root or foundation; thorough going; unsparing; extreme."

Doesn't this country need a President to go to the root in many things, of profiteering, for instance? Do we not need a President thorough going, unsparing to the last degree? There are many roots that need digging up, tearing out. Hiram Johnson is the kind of radical to do it, benefiting the health of the country thereby.

If this country must take some kind of "mandate" to be in the fashion, why not a mandate for Mexico? We have interests there and responsibility, because of the Monroe Doctrine.

We have people near us, on this continent, nearly always shooting each other, occasionally shooting us, and at intervals murdering some old man, like Carranza, to make room for somebody else.

A man wouldn't go a mile down the street to put out a fire if the house next door was burning. Why not concentrate on Mexico and let Armenia rely on her neighbors?

It would cost us more than seven hundred millions in five years to take it over. We have so much money to spare, why not spend it on Mexico, buying agricultural machinery for the peons, convincing cerlain Mexican gentlemen that the United States really is a nation, and pushing industrial efficiency, the civilization of Texas and California, formerly Mexican soil, a little further south?

Mr. Tom Jolly, eminent professional gambler, is dead. He was living in retirement. For, said he, "Gamblers from the West robbing their customers and gamblers from the East Side with queer foreign games ruined the gambling business."

He said something more valuable, although young gambling fools will pay no attention. He said that gamblers, except professionals, always lose. Nobody made money but the professionals who owned the gambling houses.

Gambler Jolly was famous for good food, given free, to customers. He provided Virginia hams soaked in whiskey barrels, then cooked to order. But as one of Gambler Canfield's customers, with empty pockets, remarked, "You can't eat a thousand dollars' worth of ham."

Definite figures are interesting. You get them from Mr. Hull of Tennessee, financial expert in Congress. The corporations of this country, after paying ALL income tax, excess profit and other taxes that cause so much weeping, earned as their NET PROFIT in the last four years thirty-four thousand millions of dollars. Thirty-four billions net profit in four years is not bad, considering that it means an increase of thirty billions as compared with the four years preceding.

Other exact figures are not so impressive, but more important. A woman with many children went to buy shoes for a child eighteen months old. The shoes weighed about two ounces. The heels were tacked on. The uppers did not look much like leather. A leather man who understands such matters tells this writer that the material in those shoes "may have cost as much as twelve cents." The woman paid $5.60 for them.

Next week is "Americanization Week." Begin by Americanizing the criminals that rob poor mothers through their children.

The American profiteer, more than any foreigner, needs Americanizing. Not one week of it, but about ten years in a Federal penitentiary.

$25,000 WORTH OF LIQUOR SEIZED

BARNEY ESCAPE PLOT KNOWN FOR MONTHS

$25,000 IN WHISKEY SEIZED

Revenue Officers Accused of Taking Bribes as Big Plot Is Revealed

A whiskey ring, said to involve two New York financiers and revenue officers, and which worked on a gigantic scale to distribute bonded liquor from New York, is said to have been unearthed in Boston today by Federal prohibition agents.

Seizure in a Dover street garage of a truck load of whiskey, worth $25,000, reported to have been consigned to Frank Arancio of Arancio Brothers, wholesale fruit dealers on North street, is said to have led to the revelations.

The seizure and the facts unfolded by the Federal officers form a dramatic story. It includes the attempted bribery of two Federal prohibition agents and of others gleaned from the illicit traffic by a revenue officer, who, it is alleged, issued the permits for the removal from bond of the vast store of liquor which the "ring" flooded throughout the country.

Four arrests have been made in Boston. The first was Frank Desmone, giving his address as Mott street, New York, and his business as a wholesale grocer. He was driver of the car bringing the load of whiskey to Boston.

Joseph Corsaro of Oneida street street, said to be an agent of the distributors and companion of Desmone in the car, and Frank Arancio, the alleged consignee, are the other two made defendants by the Federal officers.

Information regarding the arrival of a truck in Boston was gained through a Federal agent who followed it from New York and who accepted a bribe of $300 from the smugglers that he might appear to be in sympathy with their plans.

The bribe was passed in the garage after the truck arrived. It was witnessed by Patrolman Conroy of Station 5, who was secreted in the place and saw the money changes hands. The agent who received the bribe agreed to transport the liquor into the hands of the purchasers.

Committee Rejects Armenian Mandate

The map indicates the proposed boundaries of the new Armenia, threatened by hostile forces from four sides as indicated by arrows numbered as follows:

1. The Russian Bolsheviki are in control of the Caucasian republics of Georgia and Armenia (the former Russian province with Erivan for capital).

2. From Asia Minor the Turkish Nationalist forces of Mustafa Kemal Pasha may invade the new state.

3. The Republic of Azerbaijan, in habited by Tartars of Bolshevik sympathies, has declared war on Armenia.

4. From the South the hereditary enemies of the Armenians, the Kurds, are conducting raids on the border country.

Major General Harbord estimates that the defense of Armenia would require an American Expeditionary Force of at least 59,000 officers and men.

By International News Service.

Washington, May 27.—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee this afternoon, by a vote of eleven to four, reported a resolution "respectfully declining" to grant the authority requested by President Wilson to accept a mandate for Armenia.

The resolution presented by Senator Brandegee provides "That the Congress hereby respectfully declines to grant the executive the power to accept a mandate over Armenia as requested in the messages of the President dated May 24.

The report of the committee will not go into the question as to the reasons for declining to accept the mandate, this being left open for arguments on the floor of the Senate.

BERGDOLL 'SEEN' IN BOSTON

Reported Draft Dodger, Disguised as a Woman, Was at North Station

A report from a so-called reliable source that Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the Philadelphia draft dodger, was seen in the North Station today disguised as a woman resulted in a detail of patrolmen being sent to the terminal from the Hanover street station.

The police made a search, but failed to locate the fugitive.

Washington, May 27. — Secretary Baker today refused to confirm or deny a report that Grover Cleveland Bergdoll is being sought in Boston.

"I have nothing to say," the secretary said.

There was apparently activity in connection with the Bergdoll case about the War Department. The Judge advocate's office was in telephonic communication with General Bullard, in command of the Department of the East in New York.

FINE FOUR AUTOISTS FOR NOT SOUNDING HORNS

Four autoists were fined $5 each in Dorchester court today for not sounding their horns at the junction of Morton street and Blue Hill avenue. They were Harold K. Hunter of Worcester, Frank E. Morrison of Wakefield, Peter F. Boyd of Taunton and Edward J. James of New Bedford.

Owing to the observance of Memorial Day, all regular editions of the Boston American will be omitted next Monday, May 31.

Will Aid Mail Men's Cause in Congress

New England Senators and Congressmen, irrespective of party affiliations, have declared their sympathy with underpaid postal employes, and offered their support in the campaign of the Boston American to secure them living wages.

Their attitude was expressed through the medium of telegrams to this paper, in which a number pointed out that attempts are being made to hurry the report of the ways and means committee considering the reclassification of pay.

Congressman Richard Olney also stated that it is expected the increase this committee will recommend will be effective from July 1st, without regard to the date when the bill may become a law.

Some of the other Congressmen from whom the American has received messages were W. W. Lufkin of Gloucester, S. E. Winslow of Worcester, Augustine Lonergan of Connecticut and Senator Frederick Hale of Portland, Me.

Their telegrams follow:

RICHARD OLNEY, Congressman 14th Mass. District — Have been consistently fighting for the postal employes since my first election to Congress, realizing that this branch of the Federal service has long been underpaid. For the past several weeks, in conjunction with other friends in Congress of the postoffice employes, I have been urging the ways committee, which has been considering the reclassification of pay, to make its report as soon as possible and under-

GIRL STUDENT SHOT

COLLEGE GIRL IS DYING

Mrs. Cecilia F. Fanning, 19, of Malden, Found Wounded at Northampton

Northampton, May 27.—Considerable mystery surrounds the shooting of Mrs. Cecilia F. Fanning, a nineteen-year-old college student, from Malden, who was found dying with a bullet wound in her head in one of the principal streets of the city.

No revolver was found near her, although the police say that she purchased a gun at a local store within the past two weeks.

The girl is at the Dickinson Memorial Hospital. She is unconscious and has not been able to make any statement as to whether she attempted to take her own life or whether she was the victim of an intended murder.

Mrs. Fanning before her marriage was Miss Cecilia F. Richardson of No. 48 Newhall street, Malden. She is the wife of Raymond V. Fanning, a veteran of the war and now an instructor in the Vocational department of the Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst.

The couple were married December 26, last year by Rev. D. W. Lenehan in Malden. Fanning is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Fanning of No. 440 Ferry street, Everett.

Polo Grounds, New York, May 27.—The Braves and Giants opened the double-header season here today. Of course both clubs were out to show they could play smart baseball throughout two games.

The Braves didn't know whether to be happy or sad over the fact they were to battle the clan of McGraw in a twin bill. They have just returned from the West where they assimilated a lot of experience. It is not the most delightful thing in the world for a ball club which has been losing to know that it must play two games on the same afternoon.

The silver lining in the baseball cloud was the fact that the Braves have found the Giants easy in tussles staged on the Polo Grounds. Up to the start of the first game this afternoon, the Braves and Giants have played three games here this season. And on each occasion the Boston entry grabbed the big award.

Ross Stallings had Rudolph and McQuillan ready to face the opposition today, while Barnes and Benton were eager to grab a couple of victories for the local pennant entry.

DISMISSED TEACHERS' CASE TO BE HEARD

Westfield, May 27.—Protesting against their dismissal from Prospect High School on charges of incompetency, lack of control and poor discipline, two teachers, the Misses Ella and Hazel Hyde, have secured a hearing before the School Committee on Monday. Superintendent Chester D. Stiles said a higher quality of teaching was necessary in view of the salary increases.

DESERVING PUBLIC ENCOURAGEMENT

The movement on foot to impress Congress with the necessity for increasing the pay of postoffice employees and carriers has every deserving feature, and is the only means by which these men can realize the necessary advance in pay to furnish them and their families with the bare requirements of life. The Boston American has advocated that the Congressional committee, which will be found in every edition, send in the letters here the appreciation for "fair play" that they have received in other worthy movements the effect upon Congress will be satisfactory. "One-Day Husband" Gets Annulment

Chief Justice Aiken, in the Divorce Session, Superior Court, granted an annulment of marriage to Frederick W. Harrington, No. 233 Quincy street, against his wife, Celia L. Harrington, nee O'Brien, now residing at No. 16 Garland avenue, Everett. Harrington alleged that he married his wife February 11, 1919, but that it was a "pretended marriage" as she left him, the same day, and never returned. He entered into the ceremony in good faith, he declared, but said his wife did so with intention to deceive and defraud.

TENANT AT WILL BILL A LAW

Governor Signs Measure the Boston American Tenants' League Promoted

Governor Coolidge today signed the "tenant at will" bill, one of five important measures promoted by the Boston American's Tenants' League in its war upon profiteers.

The Governor received the bill only this morning. His prompt action was taken as an omen of final triumph for the four companion measures, two of which are even more drastic.

The "tenant at will" bill is for the protection of tenants without leases from summary eviction.

Under its provisions, written notice of at least thirty days must be given before ejectment.

A similar law is now on the statute books, but it expires in February, 1921. The act made law by the Governor today extends it until February, 1922.

The four companion measures, which friends of the Governor expect him to sign, are in varying stages of legislative action.

The bill making it illegal for landlords to fail to provide heat and light where contracted for and the bill giving cities and towns the power to acquire property for homes by right of eminent domain have been passed by both branches.

The "sixty-day extension" bill and the "twenty-five per cent." bill, the last the most progressive of them all, still are in the Senate Committee on Bills for a third reading.

'CARELESS' GUARD IS BLAMED

Prison Commissioner Bates Expresses Chagrin at Success of Convicts' Plot

Sanford Bates, State Commissioner of Corrections, today admitted that officials of the Charlestown State Prison were warned months ago of the plot of Harry A. Manster, Herman L. Barney and Charles Ward to escape from the institution.

He declared that his chagrin and that of Warden Shattuck over the flight of the six yesterday was increased by the fact that the officials had ample warning.

In his statement on the escape, Commissioner Bates again scored E. J. Hanifan, its dismissed guard, for negligence.

The statement follows:

"MORE CLOSELY WATCHED."

"The Department ... in receipts exceeding the unfortunate result of the daring escape from the Charlestown State Prison on Tuesday night.

"It believes that the warden shares in its keen disappointment that such a thing could have happened, and the feeling of the commissioner and the warden is heightened by the fact that this plot had been discovered some months ago and an especial warning was given to the officers to be on their guard against these men, who had proved themselves to be dangerous and resourceful criminals. As a result of the varnish they had been more closely watched, and one of the members of the conspiracy had been separated from the rest.

"A remarkable combination of skill, daring and luck combined to carry through a scheme which, no matter how skilfully devised or fortunately carried out, could never have succeeded if the guard in charge of the wing had heeded the warnings and

MILLION PAID TO W. M. WOOD OF WOOLEN COMPANY DURING 1919

Amazing revelations showing that William M. Wood, president of the American Woolen Companies of Massachusetts and New York, had a personal income last year of nearly $1,000,000 were made following the indictments in the two corporations and their president for profiteering.

Herbert C. Smyth, special assistant to the United States district attorney in that city, declared that, although Mr. Wood was in receipt of large salaries both from the manufacturing company, the selling company of the same name, and the constituent mill companies, he received commissions from the manufacturing and selling companies in 1919 amounting to $515,452.

Mr. Smyth said that the investigation disclosed "a most astounding condition of affairs with regard to these companies and their president." The cost plus system was adopted for the first time this year, as a result of which profits increased on an average of 300 per cent.

SALARY AND COMMISSION.

"In view of this increase," Mr. Smyth added, "and notwithstanding that the manufacturing and selling companies are subjected to an expense on account of the same man being president of both companies of nearly $1,000,000 compensation for commission and salaries, the 1920 statement should prove a most interesting document, if the companies are permitted to carry on this campaign of profiteering which they so boldly started out to inaugurate at the beginning of the year."

Mr. Wood may issue a statement soon, according to information given out at his home, No. 21 Fairfield street. He has retained Charles Evans Hughes as special counsel.

The indictments were handed to Federal Judge Augustus N. Hand and were the result of the activities of the so-called "flying squadron" of Department of Justice agents which has been operating in this vicinity for some months.

UNFAIR AND UNREASONABLE.

One count in the indictment sets forth that on January 7 last the concern sold 79 yards of cloth which cost $2.25 a yard to the firm of William Jerrem Sons at $3.67.

A second count charges that another sale of 74 yards was made on January 12 to Isaac L. Rosenbaum at a price of $3.25 a yard, the cost having been $1.62 a yard.

A third count alleges that on January 19 the woolen company sold 85 yards of cloth, costing $1.80 a yard, to Abraham Simon and Peter Goldstein at $3.30 a yard.

The other eleven counts in the indictment are similar in their contents to those three, and the charge of having taken an "unfair and unreasonable" profit is made against the defendants.

Wood will surrender himself before Judge Hand tomorrow morning. It is understood that a substantial sum will be asked in bail.

agent the "ring" reported to their agents in Boston that the coast was clear and safe delivery was assured. The truck, in charge of Desmone, left New York with fifty cases of Scotch whiskey.

ON TRAIL OF RING.

In the meantime, the representative of Prohibition Enforcement Officer William McCarthy, who for weeks has been on the trail of the "ring," notified his office in Boston that the truck was under way and that he would follow in a machine.

Throughout the night the delivery truck and trailing automobile slipped over the roads, Boston-bound. It was learned that the car containing the contraband would park at the Dover street garage, and there McCarthy posted a number of his agents and police under Sergeants McDonald and Hanrahan.

Assistant United States District Attorney John H. Backus said that a charge of conspiracy might be lodged against the defendants under the provisions of Section 37 of the Penal Code, which includes a penalty of two years imprisonment and fine of $10,000.

The Federal officers want to see George A. and Guiseppi Arancio, brothers of Frank, who they believe may be able to furnish information relative to former shipments.

exercised ordinary care and diligence in his position.

"The careful investigation already made shows that the escape was affected as a result of a long-planned scheme which involved the manufacture of several special tools. Every effort is always made to prevent the stealing or secretion of tools in the prison, but it has not always been possible to do so, but even the success in procuring a key and tools necessary to operate it and the extremely difficult fact of opening the door of the cell, throwing back the barrack and escaping into the corridor could never have resulted in an escape from the prison, under ordinary watchfulness.

"Three other cells were opened, a fire was thrown controlling the bar which closed a whole tier of cells, a grating was removed from the fifth floor and four men climbed into an attic and from there with much difficulty into a disc ventilator.

"It is next impossible to believe that this could have been done without more or less commotion which must have attracted the attention of a guard who was on the alert. Further than that, a careful watchman would have ascertained that these men were not in their cells on the last round of inspection, inasmuch as two of the dummies were very poorly constructed and could not have misled anyone making a careful investigation.

"CARELESSNESS OF GUARD."

"The conclusion is therefore irresistable that no matter how cunningly and skillfully the plans were carried out, they could not have succeeded except for the carelessness of the guard. The warden, backed up by the commissioner of correction, has therefore promptly discharged this employe. The investigation is still proceeding, and if any responsibility on the part of any other person can be fixed, prompt action will be taken. No evidence has been presented to the Department of Correction which might indicate any willful complicity in the escape on the part of any employe of the prison.

"All the officers knew that this escape was being planned; they had all been warned, and it was recalled to the attention on the very evening of the escape, and it seems incredible that they should participate in or connive in any such action under the circumstances. The connivance of Dintzner, who was a semi-trusty, in secreting the tools, was the unexpected element in this plan, and Dintzner has been and will be properly punished for his part in the affair. Any proved participation on the part of any other inmate will be similarly dealt with.

ABSOLVES PRISON OFFICERS.

"While it may be possible at this time to point out places in which the building from which these men escaped, could have been strengthened, it could not be reasonably assumed that a heavy iron door, with no lock on the inside, double-locked with an individual lock and a barlock on the outside, could have been forced, that a grating removed at the fifth floor and that a difficult entry be made into a pad-locked zinc ventilator, and that a steep ascent made of from fifteen to eighteen feet, and exit made through a very small opening, about nine inches wide, at the top of the ventilator, on the peak of the roof, without someone having been aroused. The commissioner is unwilling to believe, therefore, that the prison officials were negligent in not providing a sufficiently guarded building in which to house these men.

TO ARREST ACCOMPLICE.

An alleged accomplice of convicts Manster, Barney and Ward will be arrested within a few hours, it was announced by the police today.

This man is now in custody. A warrant is to be issued charging him with aiding and abetting in the escape, and he will be arraigned in Charlestown Court.

When he is formally brought into court it is expected that a more complete story of the events leading up to the flight will be obtained as well as some inkling of the intentions of the fugitives.

Distinct uneasiness was visible in official quarters today as to what the liberated convicts might do.

Fears were openly expressed that they might seek revenge on police and others who assisted in their commitment to the prison.

This view received startling confirmation when a note in Manster's cell was found to contain the name of Joseph Mattey of No. 153 Washington street, Brighton. Mattey as a special officer of the Boston Police Department arrested Manster.

Fear for his own safety is also was expressed by Attorney Thomas F. Murphy, who was counsel for Herman L. Barney in the early stages of the latter's defence. Murphy was the man who led the police to Barney's hiding place in New York after the latter was indicted for the slaying of Patrolman Charles Delninger.

John "Chuck" Dillon, former "pal" of Barney, and tried with him on the charge of the Deininger murder, was subjected to rigid questioning by the police. He denied all connection with the flight.

Circulars over the signature of Governor Coolidge were sent broadcast today announcing a $3,000 reward for capture of the convicts. Colonel Alfred P. Foote, State Commissioner of Public Safety, set several State police detectives at work on the case.

Search for the fugitive prisoners was continued today. Houses on Broadway, Somerville, were raided by Boston inspectors and Somerville police, who had a "tip" that Barney and possibly Manster were concealed in furnished lodgings there and were going to remain concealed until the hue and cry had died out.

The police are convinced that all three fugitives are in Greater Boston; that Charles Ward, the mulatto, has left Manster and Barney, and that the latter are together under the protection of wealthy friends.

Also, the police are convinced that the daring escape was conceived on the outside of the prison by members of automobile bandits who operated under Barney's leadership when he was free.

The automobile in waiting on Rutherford avenue was supplied by these auto thieves, it is believed.

READY FOR GUN FIGHT.

The six men in the machine were members of this gang, it is believed, and were prepared for a gun battle with the police in case of hot pursuit.

Officer E. J. Hanifan's announcement that he would fight discharge from the prison was a development today. Hanifan was ordered removed for negligence. He was on duty in the left wing of the prison, from which the convicts escaped.

In his announcement he declared that he would carry the matter before the Board of Prison Commissioners and force his superiors to prove their charges.

The cell of Joseph Dintzner, tool and dupe of the three convicts in their daring getaway, was searched again today, and was found to contain bolts, ropes and hammers.

In a further confession, Dintzner is alleged to have stated that he thought only he and Manster were to get away, and was surprised when Barney and Ward appeared in the corridors and preceded him up the ventilator to the prison roof.

One of the most persistent rumors today was to the effect that Barney and Manster were being cared for in a Back Bay apartment provided by a wealthy protector of the former.

This also was said to be the real director of the gang of auto thieves of which Barney formerly was active head. The police were giving considerable attention to the clew.

PROMISED FUNDS.

Manster and Ward, it is declared, were assured by Barney that his "backer" would provide for them also if the escape was effected. The first two had no means of raising funds once outside the State Prison, as did Barney through his mysterious "backer," whom, it is asserted, he protected from exposure because of the certainty that he would not fail him when needed.

Exclusive of the surveillance of every underworld haunt in the city and practically every way of escape from Boston and New England, the police were conducting their keenest hunt in the great Back Bay section where the underworld story had placed Barney and Manster together.

Contradicting the foregoing story, however, is the police belief that the trio disappeared in three different directions. That Barney was assured of funds from his mysterious friend is credited in police circles but Manster and Ward, they assert, will be forced to exist on their wits.

It is theorized that sooner or later, the latter pair will be forced to come out of their hiding place for funds—which means a hold-up or a break. This is the police trump on which they heavily if the trio are not found soon.

GIRL WANTED TO CRIPPLE ZIMMERMAN, WITNESS DECLARES

BELIEVED VICTIM'S PROMISE

Miss Zimmerman, Court Hears, Had Faith in Word of Man She Killed

Springfield, May 27.—Jennie Zimmerman believed Dr. Henry Zimmerman's promises to "do the right thing," according to the testimony today of Antonia Silber, the dead doctor's most intimate friend.

Silber declared that Jennie made this statement in direct contradiction of her betrayal story, while conversing with him on the street the night before the murder.

He quoted the girl as saying of Dr. Zimmerman: "He ruined or crippled my life, and I want to see him crippled." On cross-examination the witness admitted he inferred that Jennie was referring to the doctor's career.

The witness testified that on Friday night in January, 1919, when Dr. Zimmerman returned from camp on leave, he and the doctor spent the evening together. He said they went to the apartment of Leo Slobins, where they remained until after 12 o'clock.

It was on this night, according to Jennie's testimony, that the doctor had put her, although she claimed to be confined to bed, recovering from influenza.

Silber said he respected Dr. Zimmerman, was proud to be considered his most intimate friend, but that he had no animus against Jennie and she would have his best wishes for success if she were released.

DENIES STORY.

Silber denied telling Mrs. Maud Cornell, while riding in his automobile, after the shooting, that Dr. Zimmerman performed one operation and perhaps two on Jennie.

Julius Cornell, brother-in-law of Dr. Zimmerman, was subjected to severe cross-questioning by Attorney McKechnie for the defence, after the witness had finished his testimony for the government.

The whole trend of the lawyer's questioning was to show that Cornell, too, was one of the Socialist sympathizers whom the defence attorney accuse of trying to hurt Jennie Zimmerman's case.

First he said that he did not know Jennie Zimmerman at all. He later said, in answer to a volley of questions that he had met the girl when she visited his wife at the Mercy Hospital in Springfield, and also that he had had two or three telephone conversations with her. He said he had no hatred toward Jennie, and was only anxious that the case should be fairly tried.

"PHYSICIAN AND PATIENT."

The witness admitted asking a Springfield newspaper for an interview. In this interview he said the doctor's relations with Jennie had been simply that of physician and patient. He said this interview was correct in detail, but the interview was given in January, while the witness testified that he had received the first knowledge of the doctor's relationship with Jennie in the Balkan in March.

The witness admitted that he was chairman of the local Labor League, a Socialist organization, but denied that he had been one of a committee which drew up a resolution expressing regret at the death of Dr. Zimmerman.

Mrs. Julius Cornell, a sister of Dr. Zimmerman, identified a photograph which she said stood on his dresser, as that of a Miss Itzkovitch, which she had given to her brother, Carl, who resided with the doctor. Jennie has denied that this was the same photo which she testified to seeing. The witness testified that on Thanksgiving Day of 1915 Dr. Zimmerman was at home with his mother.

Her husband had previously testified that around Thanksgiving of 1916 Mrs. Cornell and Dr. Zimmerman went to see a William Saxt. He said they telephoned him and he invited them to visit him.

FISH RECEIPTS LIGHT; PRICES GO UPWARD

Fish prices in the Boston wholesale market jumped today, the advances being due to continued light receipts. For nearly a week the southeast gales have swept the fishing grounds and a minimum of production has resulted. In some instances today's ex-vessel prices are more than double last week's level, haddock being quoted at 6 and 7 cents a pound, as against 2½ to 3 cents last week. Larger cod were quoted today at 10 cents a pound, as against 6 cents, pollock at 8½ cents, hake at 4 cents and mackerel at 13 cents. Telegraphic advices from Rockland, Me., stated that the steam trawler Sea Bird put in there today with about 600 pounds of cod fish. This is the largest catch of fish ever landed at an Atlantic port.

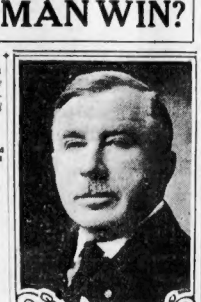
CAN THIS MAN WIN?

The fourth article of the Boston American's unique review of the Republican presidential possibilities, dealing with General Leonard Wood, follows:



GENERAL LEONARD WOOD

By W. W. LUFKIN,
Massachusetts Member of the Wood National Board of Strategy and Member of Congress.

I shall endeavor to tell, first, why I believe General Wood will be nominated, and second, why I believe he ought to be. I believe that the Republicans will nominate Leonard Wood as their candidate for President at the national convention because he has shown more popular strength among the rank and file of the members of our party than any other candidate suggested, either active or passive.

Leonard Wood has gone through the preliminary campaign on the theory that the Republican people should have an opportunity to say whether they prefer him as their nominee or some one else. Following out this line, he has allowed his name to be presented in practically every State where a direct primary has been held, regardless of whether that State had a so-called favorite son candidate or not. The outcome of these popular primaries in which General Wood to have finished either first or second in every single State, with the exception of Montana.

Has a Majority on First Ballot

Where there was no favorite son candidate he has finished first in every single State except Montana and Michigan. His combined popular vote in all these primaries is far in excess of any other candidate. Moreover, the various polls conducted by the metropolitan newspapers and magazines all show Leonard Wood far and away the favorite with the people.

I do not believe that the Republican national convention can afford to disregard this popular indorsement. Leonard Wood will enter the convention with the greatest number of delegates on the first ballot. His nearest opponent, both in the number of delegates and in the strength of popular support is Senator Johnson. The convention, in my opinion, must nominate one or the other, or else disregard absolutely the will of the people as expressed by the rank and file of the voters in those various states.

Is Everything President Wilson Is Not

If the convention undertook to nominate a man who has not carried a single State except his own and who has been a bad third or fourth in the other State contests, I believe it will make a serious mistake. The Republicans to win the contest this year must, in my opinion, nominate not only the man best qualified to be President, but likewise the man whom a majority of the rank and file of the people believe to be the best qualified. From the results of the popular primaries, Leonard Wood appears undoubtedly to be that man.

To my mind, the people of the United States want as their next President a man as absolutely different from the present incumbent as it is possible to find. This is why I am for Leonard Wood and that is why I believe the Republicans ought to nominate him. To my mind, he is everything which Woodrow Wilson is not. He stands for action rather than verbal message. He is a leader of men.

He believes in a strong foreign policy, not of the kind which makes a man too proud to fight, but of the kind which puts America first at all times and which will advocate the protection of American citizens at home and abroad—yes, even in Mexico.

He stands with the majority of his party in favor of Americanizing resolutions to the peace treaty as proposed by Senator Lodge. He tells us if elected President he will not take the attitude of knowing it all himself. Leonard Wood, if elected President, will surround himself with the biggest and ablest men in the country and then place a certain amount of responsibility upon these advisers. To use his own words, "If you have a good watchdog, don't insist upon doing all the barking yourself."

Above all, Leonard Wood is the one man in this country who has shown by actual experience that he understands how to bring together the now widely separated industrial and labor elements of this country. He has in the long career in public life been called upon to arbitrate many great commissions, both of national and of international importance. In all these tasks, for which his country has conscripted him, he has never failed. If we conscript him as our chief executive for the next four years, I am confident that success will again crown his efforts.

Stands Alone by His Unique Experience, Says Murchie

By GUY MURCHIE,
New England Manager of Wood Campaign.

Leonard Wood is a Massachusetts man. His father and mother's people lived in Massachusetts for three hundred years, and he spent the first twenty-five years of his life here until he went out west to seek fame and fortune. The result is that now he is big enough to be seen across the continent, and more than one State claims him.

General Wood's remarkable ability to think and act straight, to get at the heart of things, to understand the probable results of an act done or not done, and his physical vitality and untiring spirit put him in a class by himself among our presidential candidates. His remarkable knowledge of men, gained through the first thirty-nine years of his life as a non-political soldier and not only in the West End of Boston, but under all kinds of conditions in various parts of the United States, has added a training as unusual as it has proven effective in his public life.

Since 1898 General Wood has been recognized as one of our great leaders.

When he left Cuba, upon completing his labors there, a notable bishop of Cuba presented him with a parchment from all the people, inscribed: "The greatest of all your triumphs is to have won the affection of a people in trouble."

Record Shines Both in War and Home Troubles

Why do these things happen? Why is there a demand for the services of General Wood? Because he makes it a point to understand not be unthinkable to do, and thereby gets results. He also understands the people he has to deal with. No man has had more difficult constructive work. He stepped two hundred years of rottenness and misrule in Cuba and built a free, prosperous and self-governing republic in the remarkably short time of three years.

He went to Asia, subdued and established government in a large province and persuaded the fighting Mohammedans to abandon polygamy. He made efficient the general staff of the army.

He trained and equipped large divisions in the Middle West for France, finally submerged his own aspirations to serve in battle. He dealt fairly with capital and labor at Omaha and Gary and restored peace and order without bloodshed. He has ever fought to inspire us with straight Americanism.

This is the layman's point of view. The writer is a printer, a competent man, being foreman of a big Boston plant.

By JOHN G. GOSSELIN
of Milton.

Leonard Wood represents the true, broad and level-headed American more than any candidate in the presidential field. More than ever in its history America needs strong leadership, wise guidance and sane dealing with the serious conditions that prevail. With an embarrassing fecundity the nation is giving birth to problems that clamor insistently for settlement. What Europe needs is important, but what America needs is imperative. A million families homeless here is real suffering—and a mandate for Armenia would only serve to raise our rentals.

Back in the United States with 100 per cent. Americanism is personified in the proposal by Senator Lodge. He tells us if elected President he will not take the attitude of knowing it all himself. Leonard Wood, if elected President, will surround himself with the biggest and ablest men in the country and then place a certain amount of responsibility upon these advisers. To use his own words, "If you have a good watchdog, don't insist upon doing all the barking yourself."

Above all, Leonard Wood is the one man in this country who has shown by actual experience that he understands how to bring together the now widely separated industrial and labor elements of this country. He has in the long career in public life been called upon to arbitrate many great commissions, both of national and of international importance. In all these tasks, for which his country has conscripted him, he has never failed. If we conscript him as our chief executive for the next four years, I am confident that success will again crown his efforts.

Another of the quartet was assessed on a charge of being present where gaming implements were found. The men were William F. Hennessey, Daniel J. Callahan, Harold F. Crandall and Harry Stone.

ALLEGED JEWELRY BURGLARS ARRESTED

Two alleged burglars, Arthur A. Adolfe of New Bedford and Louis Wonitsky of Groton street, Boston, were captured today by plain clothesmen Cronin and Norton of the East Dedham street station. They are charged with breaking and entering the suite of Addie R. Clark, No. 583 Columbus avenue and larceny of jewelry valued at $3,500.

'RECONQUEST' OF ERIN PLANNED

Sinn Fein Scoff at the British Despite Presence of 100,000 Troops

By International News Service.

Dublin, May 27.—England proposes the "reconquest" of Ireland, with 100,000 troops, according to assertions made in Republican circles today.

The British soldiers and constabulary stationed in Ireland now total almost that number, and reinforcements of troops are coming in constantly.

Colonel Winston Churchill, British secretary of war, admits there are about 50,000 British regulars stationed in Ireland, not including the constabulary. There are 14,000 constables in Ireland in 1916 and it is estimated that this number has been nearly trebled. The constabulary is composed mainly of former English soldiers.

Sinn Fein leaders declare that "Not even 500,000 soldiers could bring Ireland into subserviency."

Great number of troopships bringing soldiers and munitions are arriving at Dublin quays, but the Sinn Feiners say there is not a single regiment here that was recruited in Ireland except the Royal Irish Rifles, which is made up of Unionist volunteers of Sir Edward Carson, the anti-home rule leader in Ulster province.

Sinn Fein leaders declare the system of blockhouses and barbed wire entanglements which the War Office is said to be planning throughout Ireland in an effort to isolate certain Sinn Fein communities would not prove effective. They say the proposal to make all Ireland an armed camp would only intensify Sinn Fein activities outside of the blockhouse area, making it necessary to station a regiment in every Irish parish.

The curfew order, which was inaugurated in this city by the British military authorities to protect the lives of policemen proved a failure, it is claimed by republican leaders. They say that there have been more policemen murdered in broad daylight during the past four months than there were under cover of darkness in the preceding four months.

At Cork, policemen work in batches of twenty or more. In addition to being armed with carbines, the policemen are protected by soldiers. Even with these precautions, the Cork police are described by the Sinn Feiners as "mere dummies," and parts of the city are not patrolled by them.

Still More Sugar, But Price May Go Higher

Although sugar is coming into Boston so fast that the docking facilities are inadequate to care for the shipments, Massachusetts people are virtually forced to beg for even a pound of the commodity.

Prices of 25 cents to 28 cents a pound are being demanded and according to the dealers the ever-abundance of sugar will not forestall another advance within forty-eight hours.

Cuban raw sugar is reaching Boston in such quantities that steamships employed in the trade are forced to anchor in the stream while awaiting expert piers alongside refinery wharves.

This influx of sugar comes, coincident with the disclosure by Raymond L. Wilson, a New York sugar broker, that an advance is imminent and that $250,000,000 has been loaned by American bankers to Cuban concerns that they may corner the crop of that country and make still more profits from the American public.

George Henry Finlay, a New York sugar man, testifying before the Lusk committee investigating charges of profiteering, said that there was no doubt that the American sugar consumer is at the mercy of profiteering Cuban planters. He said that the National City Bank in Havana lends $25 a bag on stored sugar. Other banks, he declared, lend as much as $36 a bag.

Bananas Plenty, but Price Goes Up

In spite of the fact that receipts for bananas are extraordinarily heavy, the price of this fruit is advancing in Boston. With 194,000 bunches received in May as against 173,000 bunches for the same period last year, the retail cost has advanced about 20 per cent., being $5 to 60 cents a dozen for the cheaper brands and 80 cents for the finer grades.

The United Fruit Company has had two ships a week arriving in Boston, averaging around 170,000 bunches a week.

MOTOR TRUCK DRIVER DIES IN WORCESTER

Worcester, May 27.—Max Rabinowitz, of No. 39 Dorchester street, South Boston, died in the City Hospital today from injuries received when a furniture truck he was driving overturned, pinning him against a tree on the road to Spencer. Jacob Allen, of No. 32 Genesee street, Boston, who was with Rabinowitz, escaped injury. A dozen men worked for nearly an hour to release Rabinowitz. He was driving the truck from Boston to New York.

HUNT MAN WHO BOMBED ARMORY IN HARTFORD

Hartford, Ct., May 26.—Nearly the entire detective squad is working on clews that may lead to the discovery of the person who planted a bomb in the State Armory last night and which exploded, wrecking part of the building and narrowly missing several squads of State guardsmen who were in the drill shed. It was said that the bomb was probably defective, otherwise its effects would have been more serious.

DEMAND GERMANY FULFILL TREATY TERMS

Paris, May 27.—The council of ambassadors has drawn up a note for transmission to Germany, pointing out Germany's failure to carry out the treaty terms for the delivery of war materials and to send documents and demanding immediate compliance, it was learned today.

CARRANZA'S ASSASSIN REPORTED SURRENDERED

Mexico City, May 27.—Rodolfo Herrero, alleged assassin of Venustiano Carranza, surrendered at Ceyula, State of Vera Cruz, to General Lazaro Cardenas, according to a telegram signed by Cardenas and received by Alvaro Obregon.

DIDN'T HANDLE CASH, SAYS WOOD

General, in Boston, Declares His Manager Looked After Campaign Expenses

General Leonard Wood today at the Hotel Bellevue declared that he had no connection with the handling of the campaign funds at the end of his campaign.

Later, at a reception to several hundred of his campaign workers in this State, the general repeated his statement, and said he wanted the public understand it.

He said that he had every confidence in Colonel Procter who has charge of the finances, and pointed out that it would cost $1,000,000 to mail circulars to every voter in the country. This estimate, he said, was based on 25,000,000 male and female voters, at a cost of five cents each.

General Wood, who came from Montclair, left for New York and North Carolina following a private luncheon at the Boston Army Club given by Guy Murchie, chairman of the Leonard Wood League of Massachusetts.

Resuming here late last night, the general went immediately to the home of Mr. Murchie, where at breakfast he was joined by his brother, J. H. Wood, a Boston wool merchant, whom he had not seen for two years.

General Wood met his campaign workers. Mrs. George Peabody Gardner, chairman of the Woman's committee of the Leonard Wood League, received with the group, which was headed by Dorothy Forbes, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau.

$40,000 in Butler Fund; $113,4000 in Harding's

By International News Service.

Washington, May 27.—Contributions to the campaign of Nicholas Murray Butler of New York for the presidential nomination total $40,550 to date, according to the testimony of John R. Davies, manager of the Butler campaign, who appeared before the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today.

There have been five contributions of $5,000 each, Davies stated. One of these was made by G. Dunn, an engineer, and another by William C. Demarest, both of New York.

Senator Harding's total campaign expenses have been $107,709.86, with contributions of $113,193.50, H. M. Daugherty testified.

BLAST INJURES 14 FIREMEN

Hot Air Explosion in $9,000 Portland Fire Seriously Hurts Five

Portland, Me., May 27.—Fourteen firemen were injured today in a hot air explosion which occurred during a fire that destroyed a block of small stores reaching from Nos. 11 to 15 Temple street.

Five of the men, including Captain J. A. Cooper, still are in local hospitals under treatment for serious burns. The others were able to go home after treatment.

Thirty men were working on the ladders when the explosion came, rocking the entire retail business district.

The fire was of undetermined origin. The damage was $9,000.

Modern Windows Cause Faneuil Hall Stir

They've put new, modern, plateglass windows in Faneuil Hall Market—four of 'em, and the mischief is to pay.

"Outrageous," says the Bostonian Society, "changing our old landmark so unfeelingly."

"Instead of getting cross, that Bostonian society ought to thank us, for getting those nice, sensible, modern windows that you can see something out of in the Hall," says Deputy Superintendent of Markets Peter J. Connolly.

"Than them—oh, we ought, ought we?" say Secretary Charles Read, of the Bostonian Society. "Well, I don't see it that way—no I don't, not quite."

CONTROVERSY IS ON.

So the wry controversy is on. In the meanme, here's the story:

About 50 years ago the first modern, single paned window of plate glass appeared in Faneuil Hall Market, facing the square.

What heaened? Nothing. No old Bostonian strayed, rose up and demanded theoval. So another was added, to me both sides alike. Then, just lately, for four years, two others haveen added, in Quincy Market. Air four years, the shades of old Boste speaking through the Bostonian Siety, have arisen to protest.

"Outrageos" says Secretary Read. "I won't saythat the Bostonian Society will oppose those windows, but I will say that the Bostonian Society is opposed to them. What's the difference? That's easy. To oppose means action; it means backing the City of Boston. Maybe, even, our society will oppose them. At any rate our society doesn't like them, is opposed, in other words."

Miss Martha A. S. Shannon said:

WOULD KEEP SMALL PANES.

"It's something that the newspapers should take up. All the old windows of Faneuil Hall Market and Quincy Market should be kept with the small panes. No big new ones of plate glass should be substituted."

Great modern improvements, versus antiquity, stand at bays.

Deputy Superintendent Connolly is sponsor for the plate glass. As he pointed out.

"Just look at the stalls where those nice plate glass windows have been put in. Sanitary, aren't they? They dess those windows so they're a credit to the market. The Bostonian Society should thank the firm that put in those windows at its own expense. Besides, the old stlls were not disturbed.

LANDLADY GOT NO PROFIT

Had to Sell Her Jewelry and Piano to Pay Taxes, She Says

A landlady, absolved from a charge of profiteering, was informed by the Mayor's Committee on Renting and Housing today that she was acting fairly when she increased the rent on a house at No. 49 Charles street, Dorchester, from $40 to $56 a month.

The woman gave testimony to the commission that showed she was not making a cent on her investment; that the tenant of eight rooms, with modern improvements, for $40, and that she was forced to sell her jewelry and piano last year to pay the taxes. On top of this the owner does the janitor work for the complaining tenant.

Herbert E. Ellis, a member of the commission, informed the ocegant of the house that the landlady was not profiteering and that the increase was a legitimate one. The tenant demanded a public hearing which will be held within the next few days.

As a result of a story in the American yesterday the commission was able to coordinate a difference between a landlord and tenant who had taken a rent case prior to the commission for settlement. The tenant declared that the owner of his house had demanded $90 a month for a apartment for which the tenant had been paying $42.50. Today the landlord agreed to postpone the proposed increase until September 1.

PRESIDENT MAY HOLD CONGRESS

Plans for Summer Vacation May Be Upset by Important Matters

Washington, May 27.—President Wilson is prepared to put a damper on any plans Congress may have for a Summer vacation.

The President, it was learned today, will insist that Congress shall not adjourn until it has disposed of matters upon which he desires action.

Furthermore, the President has not expressed any desire to Dr. Grayson to leave Washington for the Summer and is quite willing at present to remain on the job and expects Congress to do the same. Only severe heat which would injure the President's health would cause Dr. Grayson to order the President out of the capital, according to present White House plans.

The President is becoming somewhat anxious over inaction by the Senate upon important nominations and will attempt to force action upon these appointments before any adjournment is taken.

Among the important nominations to be confirmed are:

Henry Jones Ford, James Duncan and Mark W. Potter to be members of the Interstate Commerce Commission; Henry Morgenthau to be ambassador to Mexico (an appointment which may be subjected to withdrawal until this government takes action with regard to recognition of the new Mexican government); Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts, to be a member of the Tariff Commission. It is believed in official circles that the President will desire to have the Senate in session during the campaign that he may return the treaty to that body if events make that an expeditious course for him to follow.

15,000 TROOPS TO HUNT DOWN VILLA

By GERALD BRANDON.

Who has just returned from an extended visit to Francisco Villa, the Mexican rebel.

Written for Universal Service.

New York, May 27.—With the appointment of Adolfo de la Huerta as provisional president of Mexico, the last chance of an arrangement between the new government and Francisco Villa disappeared.

Villa in his recent interview with me said that he would never recognize as provisional executive any man who was connected with the revolution in a military way. Asked for the names of men who would be acceptable to him, he mentioned Fernando Iglesias Calderon, Manuel Bonilla, Manuel Palafox and Francisco Diaz Lombardo.

TOO FOND OF POWER.

"The trouble with provisional presidents," said Villa, "has always been their unwillingness to turn loose the executive power once they have tasted its delights.

"For provisional President, Mexico does not need a great statesman nor a popular political leader. What we need is an absolutely honest man who can be depended upon not to misuse his temporary power to influence the elections.

"If De La Huerta or Calles is appointed, elections will be a farce, for both of them are unconditionally pledged to Obregon's candidacy, and even if no military force is used to frighten away voters, at least the moral pressure of the government will defeat the spirit of 'effective suffrage.'"

When Villa named Inglesias Calderon as his favorite candidate for the provisional presidency, he did not seem to know that Calderon is one of Obregon's most enthusiastic supporters. I did not think it necessary to inform him of this fact, but when I mentioned his words to a member of the Obregonista junta, they were taken to offer a possibility of an understanding.

I have always thought the best way to overcome anti-Americanism in our Latin-American neighbors is to give them a trip through our country. If Villa had any idea of our power, he would not have dared to challenge it. If Carranza had travelled through North and South America he could not consistently have been an advocate of Pan-Hispan-Americanism.

VILLA'S FIELD NARROWED.

Within a few days the new administration will doubtless commence an energetic military campaign against Villa. Without any difficulty some fifteen thousand men can be mustered to seek him out. I warned him of this but he did not seem to worry.

"Fifteen thousand," he scoffed. "Why I have had as many as to give battle with five thousand Mexicans and ten thousand Americans after me, and they did nothing to me."

Villa's scope of action has also been narrowed by the "Defensa Social," a military organization more than ten thousand strong, which to a man supports General Ignacio Enriquez, Villa's most inveterate enemy. This militia holds the northwest sierra of Chihuahua so strongly that the guerilleros have had to keep away for nearly two years, confining their raids to the desert country in the central, southern and eastern part of the State. The northern portion, which borders on the United States, has been unhealthy for Villa since he was driven away from Juarez last year.

I asked Villa where he expected to get supplies to continue fighting.

"From the American mining companies," he answered. "If they do not treat me right I can easily stop their working. No matter how many men the government puts in the field against me I can always paralyze industry by wrecking the railroad and blowing up power transmission lines or towers."

The "defensa social" movement has gotten under Villa's skin. He showed me a letter which he wrote recently to General Enriquez, challenging him to mortal combat in the manner of the knights of old.

"Meet me anywhere you wish," he wrote. "On horseback or afoot, with rifle or revolver or even with our lassoes in true Mexican fashion, and we can settle this war. If you are a patriot you should welcome this method of saving the blood of our countrymen."

Enriquez has twice been provisional Governor of Chihuahua. He is without doubt the most popular man in the State, having earned the gratitude of all political parties by forcing Carranza to relire General Maclguia from the command of military operations in the north.

This is the fourth of a series of articles by Mr. Brandon on Villa and his aims. The fifth article will appear in an early number of the Boston American.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is no hope for you. Many whose eyes are failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man set after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and believe me my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they do not all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any reliable drug store and get Bon-Opto tablets. Bon-Opto comes in tablet form. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and are in prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists.

Three-Quarters of a Century in Business

Ninety Per Cent. Increase in Nine Months

THE FORMER refers to the long and honored career of the House of Hovey. The latter relates to the first nine months of business under the present management.

¶ The present happy condition would have been impossible had not foundations been so well laid in olden days.

¶ Enlarged and increased departments, enhanced forces for service, buying and selling—all this would have been futile in results had not time-tried policy been its guide and endorser.

¶ Why, then, should this organization partake of any alarm as regards American producing and merchandising conditions?

¶ We absolutely refuse to do so—not only for our own sake, but because we have first in mind the lasting welfare of our growing clientele.

¶ We take this opportunity of assuring our friends that the sources of supply and of value which for three-quarters of a century have kept the Hovey Company right at the front of sane merchandising will keep it there.

POSTAL RAISE BOOM GROWS

Congressmen Hope to Pass Legislation Before Adjournment, June 5

stand that the increase which it is expected to recommend will be effective from July 1, without regard to the date when the bill recommended may become a law.

W. W. LEPKIN, Congressman 6th Mass. District—I am absolutely in favor of passing legislation for the betterment of the conditions of the postal employes of the country. I sincerely hope that the report of the postal commission may be made available so that we can pass this legislation prior to the adjournment of the present session of Congress on Saturday, June 5th.

SAMUEL E. WINSLOW, Congressman, Fourth Massachusetts District—I have long since been, and am now, keenly interested in fair treatment for postal employes in respect to wages, but I am not sufficiently informed as to feel warranted in discussing in detail the general subject of their working conditions.

FREDERICK HALE, U. S. Senator from Maine—I am thoroughly in sympathy with this move to secure better wages and better working conditions for postal employes. Joint Commission expected to report a bill this week.

AUGUSTINE LONERGAN, Congressman, First Connecticut District—I favor increased salaries for postal employes.

A report submitted to the joint Congressional Commission on Postal Salaries by Thomas F. Flaherty of Washington, D. C., secretary-treasurer of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, states that a $24 weekly salary is the minimum fair wage for clerks and carriers entering the service, under present abnormal living costs. They are actually receiving approximately $23 a week.

In other words, the United States government is paying many thousands of its employes $572 a year less than required for the maintenance of a family in accordance with American standards of living.

RENT ON WAGES PAY.

While postal clerks and carriers have been endeavoring to support their families in decency and a moderate amount of comfort on starvation pay, pay so meagre that nothing short of disintegration for the mails is predicted by those who have studied the situation, coal miners have, since 1914, been granted advances of 79 per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has set $2,262 as the cost estimate of the ordinary family requirements for a one year period. The mean wage received by postal employes in from 40 to 60 per cent less than this figure, which was given out by government experts after thorough investigation of the cost of necessities.

"Should the same policy be observed by the Postal Salary Commission as was by the Coal Commission, in its dealing with the miners," says the Postal Record, the monthly Journal of the National Association of Letter Carriers, "it would mean that the annual salary of letter carriers would be increased at least $500 to $600 above the present wage level."

This scale, adopted by a Federal commission, agrees, it will be seen, with figures given by Secretary-Treasurer Flaherty of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, who declares $31 per week more than the present minimum should be paid. This would be $572 per year more, or well within the two limits set by the commission which reported on the wages of coal miners.

The "Postal Record" expresses confidence that public support will be accorded to the demands of the postal employes, once the true facts have been made clear. "The letter carrier," it says, "in an unusual degree has long enjoyed public confidence and public sympathy in his plea for a better wage. If public opinion exerts any marked influence in during denend that its weight will be on the generous side. The letter carriers have never appealed to it in vain."

The same publication, in a recent number, has a cartoon representing a letter carrier sitting in the attitude of Rodin's famous figure, "The Thinker," which is also the title of the cartoon. The following legend is likewise part of the picture: "Congress fails to pass salary bill; but Senate Postoffice Commission favors one cent postage."

Heiress Who Ran Away to Wed Yale Man

EDITH C. GOULD

EDITH GOULD IS RUNAWAY BRIDE

Sister of Lady Decies Bride of Yale Man in Auto Elopement

New York, May 27.—Miss Edith C. Gould, eighteen years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, and Carroll L. Wainwright, twenty, son of Mrs. Carl F. Wolf of this city, and a Yale student, slipped out of New York yesterday and, after a long ride by train and automobile, were married at Elkton, Md.

The marriage was the culmination of a boy and girl romance that made rapid progress during the season just past.

The bridegroom is a member of a family which, while not so wealthy nor so well known as that of his bride, has been part of the most exclusive social life of New York for several generations. His father is Stuyvesant Wainwright. He is a grandson of the late Bishop Wainwright of the Episcopal Church.

The young people are supposed to have chosen to elope simply through fear that parental objections might delay their marriage for several years.

At the city Hall in Philadelphia the young people met with a rebuff. They were refused a marriage license because Miss Gould admitted to her eighteen years and was not accompanied by her parents. Pennsylvania demands that its unchaperoned brides shall be at least twenty-one years old.

In Elkton they had no difficulty in obtaining a license. Each gave the full names of their parents. The town clerk directed them to the house of the Presbyterian minister, the Rev. John McElmoyle. They were married in the parlor of the parsonage with only the chauffeur they had picked up on the streets of Philadelphia as a witness.

STATE ENTERS SCIENCE CASE

Attorney General Allen Wants Suit Stayed Until Power of Directors Is Restored

Attorney-General Allen has filed a bill in the Supreme Court asking that all pending Christian Science suits be stayed until the court has passed upon issues presented by his bill.

Each suit, the attorney-general says, unless stayed by action of the court, will proceed between some of the parties to the exclusion of other interested parties, and each suit will result in a partial determination of the broad questions in which the public, as indefinite beneficiaries of the trusts, are interested, made by a court which will not have before it all the parties and all the evidence.

The multiplicity of such suits will, declares the attorney-general, unless prevented by the court, result in a great waste of the substance of the subsidiary charitable trust and great loss to the dominant charitable trust.

It is of vital interest to the successful promotion of the trusts, Mr. Allen says, that it be decreed that the Mother Church, acting by its constituted authorities, has power to control the character of the literature published by the trustees of the Publishing Society as authorative Christian Science literature, and to prevent publication of matter not deemed authoritative.

The Attorney-General believes that the governing body of the church is the board of directors acting in accordance with the manual which was approved and adopted by Mrs. Eddy, and that if it should be found that the powers vested in the directors has become ineffective, the court is asked to restore such power to full force and vigor by vesting the same in the Christian Science board of directors as now constituted by the manual.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look Young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. They say the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

3,280 BUILDINGS NEEDED IN 1920

Housing Board Reports 140 Per Cent. Increase in Homes Would Relieve Crisis

The Boston housing situation has become so acute, according to the report the local rent and housing committee has made to the City Planning Board, that the number of dwelling houses erected in the last five years may be increased by 140 per cent, in order that average for the five years may equal the number of homes built in preceding years.

A total of 3,280 buildings need to be put up this year, according to the report, in order to bring the five-year total up to the average number of homes built in five-year periods for the 20 years preceding the year 1914. The report further stated that whereas an average of 1,116 homes were built each year in the 20 years prior to 1914, only 120 were erected last year and only 24 in the preceding year.

There has been a substantial increase in recent years, however, in the building of office buildings and mercantile and industrial establishments, and much of the capital needed for dwelling house construction is being spent on business blocks.

This report was submitted to the Planning Board to aid the survey which it is now making of the local housing situation. The board is seeking to ascertain from real estate dealers and employers of labor the exact number of new homes that are needed in Boston.

THE DEAF HEAR

Coleman Sullivan lives at 166 Thatcher St., Mattapan. Michael Henry lives at 256 Central Ave., Milton, Mass. In 1914 Michael Henry was so bent and twisted by rheumatism that he was only able to get around with the assistance of two canes. His twisted body was supported by a plaster cast that was put on by the doctors in the hospital. He had taken morphia and aspirin for the pains until he had lost count of their number. He had spent so much money with doctors, hospitals and druggists that he was disheartened and almost penniless. He had no faith left. He reviled doctors, medicine, and profanely consigned all their kind to the eternal fires of perdition. A family friend had experienced the healing skill of the Osmo-Chemic Physicians, and she spent weeks in thankless effort to induce Mr. Henry to try these well-known physicians. Probably for the himself of her ceaseless importunities, he consented to visit the Osmo-Chemic Physicians, and as his health improved his faith returned, and he cast away his canes and plaster cast. His misshapen body was once more erect, and today he is a man again, employed in Boston, caring for his family, and an ardent supporter of the Osmo-Chemic System of Medicine. He sent Coleman Sullivan to the Osmo-Chemic Physicians, and Coleman Sullivan's hearing was restored. He sent his son, and his son's heart was made sound. He sent his daughter and had a disfiguring birthmark removed from her wrist. He sent his wife, and she was relieved of Bronchial Asthma. It would take more space than this article will permit to give the names and numbers of friends, relatives and acquaintances that, acting upon the advice of Michael Henry, had applied to and found relief from their ailments from the Osmo-Chemic Physicians.

"Turnover"

Swift & Company has referred frequently to its small profit on sales. This has raised the question, "how many times do you turn over your capital?"

Last year Swift & Company turned over its invested capital (capital stock plus surplus) nearly six times.

This, together with our large volume of business, made it possible to operate on a profit of only 1⅛ cents on each turnover. Since there were about six turnovers, our total profit amounted to about 7 per cent on capital and surplus.

This profit amounted to 11 per cent on capital stock alone. We include surplus as part of our total investment, because that is tied up in plants and equipment and huge supplies of products in process of manufacture and on the way to market, just as is our capital stock.

If the turnover had been based on inventory instead of on capital, the figures would have been about the same, because the average value of our stock of goods on hand was about equal to our investment.

The profit, from all sources, averaged only ¼ cent per pound on all products sold, and obviously had practically no effect on prices.

Our books are audited by certified public accountants, and are of course open to inspection by the U. S. Internal Revenue Department. We want people to know and to understand our business.

MIXED PRICES IN BOSTON

Local List Starts With Gains and Turns Irregular; Curb Oils Are Lower

Prices were up at the opening in Boston, but the strong tone displayed at the start was not maintained long. Before the end of the morning the list showed that the price movement had been mixed and that it was about evenly divided between gains and losses. Coppers were heavy, being unchanged or lower, with few exceptions. Little was done in parking shares, but Swift & Co. was one of the weakest stocks. American Woolen opened up a point or an eighth on its first sale, but later was off one and a quarter. Trading was quiet and the market was almost wholly devoid of anything inviting interest. Oils displayed clash strength.

Among issues to advance a point or more were Island Creek, Massachusetts Gas and Edison. Minor gains were made by Ventura, Simms Magneto, Mexican Investment, Davis Daly, Bigelow, Walworth and North Butte.

Losses of from one to two points were sustained by Mohawk, United Fruit and Swift & Co. Issues to recede fractionally included American Telephone, Copper Range, Mayflower, Carson Hill, Eastern Manufacturing, Connor Co., and Ohio Body.

DULL OPENING FOR CURB.

The Curb had a dull opening, little being done in any line of stocks on this list. Arizona Silver was active, but off 5 cents at 65 cents. Hecla Div. assessment paid .5 cents at 5 cents; White Oil 1¼ at 21¼, and Simms Petroleum ⅝ at 19⅝. Among advances were Eureka 3 cents at 57 cents, Crystal 1 cent at 22 cents and United Verde Extension ½ at 31.

STEEL AND RAIL ISSUES UP

Equipments Also Advance During Morning; Oils and Motors Higher at Noon

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were strong in New York at noon, prices being at their highest in the second hour. Steels were the leaders, with equipments and rails following. There was an upward movement by carriers late in the forenoon. Oils and motors were higher, but not continuously so at noon. American Woolen common opened with a two-point loss and was still lower before rallying. Before noon time it showed a fractional gain. The market was quiet, first hour transactions totaling less than 150,000 shares. Call money renewed at 6 per cent.

ADVANCE CAME QUICKLY.

At the opening price changes were small as a rule, although Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker and Mexican Petroleum rose from one to three points on initial sales. The movement was upward from the start and within five minutes the market showed general strength. It was because of continued short covering. There also was buying by interests which have been accumulating stocks at recent low levels, but bargain hunters were not out in force. The small investor is clinging to cash and liability on the average corporation. Steels, oils and equipments were given greatest attention. Studebaker jumped 2¼ points, Baldwin motors and coppers were dull, but firm. International Paper was a prominent specialty, but the market was without outstanding feature during the first hour and rather quiet. Strength was well maintained after the early movement until mid-morning.

UNDERTONE HAS IMPROVED.

The undertone of the market has improved this week and this is largely due to its technical position. It is believed that stocks have been oversold and that the short interest finds itself enlarged to an unwieldly extent. This is held accountable for general covering by the professional element. Liquidation has gone so far that their recent attacks have failed to dislodge stocks to any extent and advances have been achieved on very limited buying.

The decline in small rate reflects a better money situation in the East. In the West and the Southwest improvement has been slow. Confidence is held lavish spending still continue in agricultural regions. Buying of industrial goods in the East indicates that industrial sections were first to feel the change that is coming in economic conditions.

The recent weakness of Liberty Bonds was occasioned by apprehension of the effect of a boom in commodities. Dealers more than to anything else, but as belief spread that such a measure would not get through Congress they rallied. As imports expand foreign exchange must naturally diminish. Commercial rates have shown more strength with each successive rise. The advance of marks is a sign that Germany is getting back to a productive basis.

COPPER METAL QUIET, ADVANCE EXPECTED

The improvement in the stock market rating of copper shares this week is not due to reports of metal sales, for the trade done in that line is understood to be rather small. Most of the current business is for small amounts. The consumers have been unable to handle shipments and this has affected New England buying to a greater extent at least.

But it was stated yesterday: "The copper industry was never in a better position to respond to constructive developments. Some authorities look for the metal to advance to twenty-two cents a pound this Summer, following a big foreign demand. Copper above ground decreased approximates 400,000,000 pounds, compared with about double these figures a year ago."

A big increase in the total surplus of Fall River mills is shown by 1920 reports. Forty-one corporations there have this year surpluses totalling $26,462,362, as compared with the total of $14,563,396 in January, 1919. Potatoes Will Be Scarce

Potatoes will be scarce and high in price, according to reports received by the Department of Agriculture. Acreage planted to the crop this year is 5 per cent. below that of 1919, it is reported to the Bureau of Markets. Snow and transportation difficulties will reduce the Aroostook County yield, which is normally 60 per cent. of that for all New England.

LOWER SHOE PRICES LOOKED FOR SOON

According to reports from many quarters it seems to be the prevailing opinion that shoe prices have reached their zenith and may be expected to drop soon. Secretary Strand of the Tanners' Council told a Senate committee at Washington this week the decline in leather quotations indicated a drop in footwear by next Winter.

After conducting an inquiry into the situation in New England, the Boston News Bureau reports the consensus of opinion among shoe manufacturers is that the peak of shoe prices has been reached, a fact due to lessened demand and an accumulating supply in the hands of the retailer as well as manufacturers. A realization has set in that shoes are no dearer than the public will stand. One large maker of shoes admits that shoes are "too dear to warrant large purchases by retailers."

FORTUNES IN RUBBER!

Industry has been revolutionized by the great war. The world demands greater production and better quality products, and is willing to pay almost any price to procure them. There is no other country so fitted to fill the demands of trade as America—but we must have more and larger factories in order to increase the supply of finished products. To build factories requires capital, and as the banks are already doing all that they can for industry, we must go to the people for finance and pay a liberal price for it.

A HARVEST FOR INVESTORS

The World War, which worked so many other great changes, brought about an increase in the investor class from a few hundred thousands to several millions in number. People who never knew what thrift was are now fortunate owners of Liberty Bonds and other securities. They now have an opportunity of subscribing to a stock that may properly be described as of phenomenal promise. They can now buy it at a price that allows them to secure ten, twenty or thirty shares for a relatively small outlay, and they have the prospect of seeing their investment increased in value as other rubber stocks have done until it is worth many times the original investment.

Fortunes Have Been Made By Foresighted Investors in New Enterprises

They "GOT IN ON THE GROUND FLOOR" while others looked on and feared the outcome. Here are a few of the available figures that are reliable as far as we are able to ascertain:—

NO NEW COMPANY CAN BE GUARANTEED OF SUCCESS

You can get 4 per cent. in savings banks or in government bonds. At the same time they do not offer opportunities in such enormous profits as are frequently made by investors in new manufacturing enterprises, as a few examples of what may be mentioned—for instance:—

Keep The System Clean And You'll Be Healthy

Elimination helps to avoid colds, headaches and epidemics

ANYONE who has watched himself knows there is nothing so important to health and comfort as regular daily elimination. Half of the minor illnesses of life are due to neglect of this. The five million men who were in our army know the importance the doctor attached to this function.

By all means try to regulate yourself by intelligent diet and exercise, but when these fail you will need a laxative, one as near to nature in its action as skill can make it. In the opinion of many thousands of good Americans such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts promptly, gently and without griping and will with certainty regulate any tendency to constipation that you may have.

Take it when you feel drowsy, dizzy or bilious, when you feel a cold or a fever coming on, when there is an epidemic, when you have eaten anything about which you are in doubt. It is at such times that you need to be free of poisons and of fermenting foods. You can buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store. Thousands of families have it constantly in the house against emergencies.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest-selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

MATERNITY BILL 'POORHOUSE ACT'

Representative Sawyer Condemns Senate Measure as Move to Halt Benefits

The maternity benefits bill reported by the Senate Ways and Means Committee was today denounced by the Rev. Roland D. Sawyer, member of the Legislature from Ware, as "a poorhouse act, which is intended to destroy the hope of getting any real maternity benefits legislation at this session."

Rev. Mr. Sawyer declared that he would fight to substitute the Young bill in the House, even though Representative Young should accept the bill which has been reported in the Senate by the Ways and Means Committee.

"The bill is defective in four vital points," said the Rev. Mr. Sawyer.

"First—It becomes a poorhouse act because it denies maternity advice and care to all the women of the State and gives it only to those who must prove that they have no means of providing themselves with the ordinary and proper care.

"Second—It has the effect of reducing maternity benefits to a single week, a charity provision which would reduce the opportunity for the saving of the lives of expectant mothers and their children.

"Third—It goes beyond even the Spencer measure itself in providing the details for the investigation of the unmarried mother and the search for the father of the child to make him financially responsible. That is a criminal, not a health measure.

"Fourth—The bill makes no definite provision for financing maternity benefits or for any appropriation which would permit the act to go into immediate effect.

"It amounts to no more than a resolve to refer the whole subject to the department of health for an investigation, which would be reported back to the Legislature in 1922. In my opinion, the bill as it now stands is nothing less than an attempt to evade any action this year."

'PLUVIUS POLICY' REACHES U. S.

American Firm Is Prepared to Issue Insurance Against Rain

New York, May 27—Rainy day insurance is the latest

Henry W. Ives, president of the firm which has imported the "Pluvius policy" from England, explained that it is designed to cover any event or circumstance which may be affected by rain. He said:

"It's still not insure against damage. We insure against rain only and our policies are paid up whether anything is damaged or not. It is confined during the time mentioned in the contract.

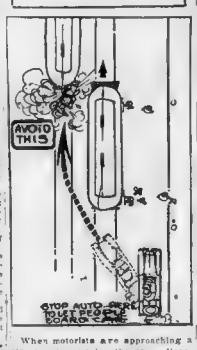
Unless are written to cover specified hours, days or weeks during which the insurance company guarantees to compensate the policy holder for such time as rain may fall.

"The rates are 15 to 25 per cent. of the amount of the premium.

Under the "Pluvius policy," if was rain ned the bride who cannot have the sun to smile upon her nuptials may at least have the solace of wedding day insurance if her vows are made while the sky weeps.

Mrs Society Queen, looking forward to an achieving Summer, may insure her entire Newport season against wet weather.

What Every Autoist Should Know



When motorists are approaching a street car going in the same direction and people are in the roadway going toward the street car to board it, they (the motorists) frequently get impatient and do not stop until the people have passed. Instead they swing to the left of the car and attempt to pass it. The view being obstructed, they frequently crash into another trolley car coming toward them or into another vehicle which has the right of way. The motorist could not swing around to the left of a car as he hasn't the right of way after passing the middle of the street. Many accidents occur in this manner and they are due entirely to motorists carelessness.

POPE SAYS ERIN NEEDS GOD'S AID

Assistance of Heaven Required to Get Her Rights, Pontiff Declares

By International News Service.

London, May 27.—Roman Catholic ecclesiastical circles were deeply interested today in advices from Rome which quoted Pope Benedict as saying that Ireland needed the assistance of Heaven to obtain that which legitimately belongs to her.

Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh sat [illegible] the pope [illegible] he received [illegible] at the Vatican and [illegible] to an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Rome.

The pontiff was [illegible] as saying that the beautiful of Sir Oliver Packett [illegible] had [illegible] when Ireland needed the help of God for her just rights.

A desperate [illegible] is on between the British government and the leaders of the Irish republican movement for the support of the Vatican.

The Pope [illegible] believed after interviewing [illegible] envoys and prelates will choose to continue the policy of neutral rôle.

Arthur Balfour's mission to Rome was of a diplomatic nature. He is believed to have endeavored to prevail upon the Pope to disavow all sympathy with, or inspiration of, the Sinn Fein movement.

The next distinguished caller was Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, who represents the "middle course" element, being [illegible] opposed to a policy of open [illegible] and [illegible] of Ireland from the British empire.

Lastly, a group of Irish bishops openly affiliated with the Sinn Feiners are now in Rome [illegible] are believed, and no doubt [illegible] Irish people to disavow all sympathy with, or inspiration of, the Irish republic as to offset Balfour's mission.

ALL-STAR OPEN AIR BOXING SHOW AT LAWRENCE ON SATURDAY

DUNDEE TO OPPOSE LAWLOR

Moran Battles Coogan, While Brown Will Clash With Jacks

By JACK CONWAY.

Lawrence will take its place alongside of Philadelphia and Newark, which for some time have been giving two and three high-class bouts for one admission, when Johnny Cuddy stages three twelve-round contests at the open-air arena of the Atlas A. A. Saturday afternoon.

The card is the best of its kind ever offered the fans in this section of the country and is sure to attract a capacity crowd. The fans are particularly eager to see Jack Lawler, Freddy Jacks and Joe Welling in action.

Lawler comes from Omaha City and is the latest sensation in the lightweight class. He will be pitted against Johnny Dundee Saturday. Here are three perfectly good reasons why the Westerner has a chance of beating Dundee:

Has a referee's decision to his credit over Benny Valger.

Won a newspaper decision over Dundee.

Scored a knockdown in a contest with Willie Jackson.

Lawler is only twenty-two years old. He believes his youth and punching ability will enable him to gain the honors.

Dundee will not lack for backers. He has engaged in some of his greatest battles in New England rings. On his last appearance at Lawrence he outpointed Young Kioby

Harry (Kid) Brown to Clash With Jacks

Matchmaker Cuddy has been obliged to make a shift in his other two twelve-round bouts. Joe Welling has been forced to withdraw from his match with Mel Coogan on account of an injured hand. Pal Moran of New Orleans has been secured to take his place.

Harry (Kid) Brown of Philadelphia will be the opponent of Freddy Jacks, British featherweight. Benny Valger was originally billed to meet Jacks, but was stricken with appendicitis at St. Louis and will be unable to box for several months. Brown is well known to Boston fans and should put up a lurid engagement

Josephs and Fitzsimmons at Commercial Club

Bobby Josephs, South End featherweight, will experience plenty of opposition when he clashes with Billy Fitzsimmons of Chelsea in a twelve-round bout at the Commercial A. C. tomorrow night. Fitzsimmons has engaged in a number of contests in local rings and has given satisfaction. He hopped up to Marlboro a few weeks ago and outpointed Joe Lynch of New York. The decision, which was in favor of Lynch, was a poor one.

Josephs has been busy training for the match as he realizes he must be at his best to win. The weight for the frolic, 126 pounds, will find both boys strong and prepared to give their best efforts.

Joe O'Connell of Brockton will have Johnny Ringer of the West End as an opponent in the semi-final of eight rounds. Jack McNeil of South Boston and Jack White of Milford will box six rounds as will Honey Mann of the West End and Young Wilson of Cambridge.

Friedman Wants Another Bout With Martin

Abe Friedman wasn't satisfied with the verdict of Referee Phil Power, which gave Terry Martin a victory over the local boxer at the Armory A. A.'s show. Neither was Eddie Mack, manager of Friedman. Mack stated today that he is prepared to arrange for another match between his protege and the New England bantamweight champion. He believes that in the event of the boys clashing again that Friedman will be so far out in front when festivities end that the task of the referee will be an easy one.

Siegal's Money Is Up for Shevlin Bout

George Carter, manager of Nate Siegal, called at the American office today to state that the $200 he recently posted with Jack Conway can stand as a forfeit for a bout with Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury, to be staged at Mechanics building on June 8 under the direction of the Armory A. A.

"Shevlin has been doing a lot of talking about waiting to meet Siegal," said Carter. "If he is really sincere, let him cover my forfeit. Siegal will make 145 pounds at 5 o'clock, which is as low a weight as Shevlin cares to fight at.

"Billy Henderson, Shevlin's manager, declared he would cover any forfeit I might post. Now let him make good."

HONEST ALL THROUGH

FOR MEN AND BOYS

The Country Club—In All Leathers—One of Many Models

"I demand for myself absolute comfort in shoes which are at the same time smart looking, well fitting and long wearing, and I can't expect any other man to demand less."
Chas. O. Emerson

MANY years ago I decided that the best way to protect my customers against excessive profits was to stamp a fair and square retail price on the soles of my store shoes, based on the actual factory cost of labor and materials.

By enlarging my production from year to year I have been able to keep this selling price remarkably low in spite of the greatly increased cost of all materials and labor.

I have always felt that it was better policy to make many shoes at a low profit than a few shoes at a larger profit.

The fact that I have increased my sales ten times in the past six years is proof positive that the general public appreciate this policy.

Our shoes cannot be marked up at one season of the year just to hold so called "Marked Down Sales" at another season. I never ask you to pay more for a shoe than it is actually worth.

Come into our store and put this to the test. Inspect our styles and prices—and if you aren't convinced that you are getting more for your money in Emerson Shoes than in any others, I will not expect or want you to buy.

BABE RUTH WILL TRY TO KNOCK RED SOX OUT OF FIRST PLACE

BATTERER LEADS YANKEES IN DRIVE AT FENWAY

By NICK FLATLEY

Below the Red Sox [illegible] in the American League The Fenway floats has scrambled back to the top of the world. The ever aided Western assault was knocked into small pieces, and now a couple of Eastern aggregations are in line for a taste of Boston baseball.

Babe Ruth and the Yankees promise [illegible] to attract a [illegible] the baseball [illegible] thing with a [illegible] tractive nowadays—and the Yanks come well to [illegible]

Making Baseball a Bit In-trick-ate

Now comes Louis Gommelt, inventor, of St. Paul, with a plan for scoring bases made in a ball game instead of runs.

Not a bad idea at that maybe, Hi!—

I think of sliding through a 10 to 9 contest—as you would if the score was 10 to 2), or—

If you stop to figure up the number of men left on base and multiply it by 2 or 3, you will see where each inn will have to be upon at least one of the three "Hs" to know who is ahead.

Why not give a tad a quarter of a run, Louis, when he makes a base? It will only make it a little bit more "in-trick-ate."

The Yankee boys found themselves [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] now are playing [illegible] baseball. They aren't [illegible] They have a [illegible] following the wash it [illegible] should give the [illegible] Sox defeats [illegible] of chatter [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] are raised.

Shift Holdover Game to Saturday

[illegible] hit the ball hard [illegible] efficient hands [illegible] pellers. The natives are [illegible] and desire to remain [illegible] they hit the road [illegible] hooted westerly. This [illegible] was to have been the initial presentment of the old double-header, but plans were shifted [illegible]

The holdover game with the Yankees will be played Saturday, there [illegible] no doubt setting the stage for a [illegible] [illegible] necessary to [illegible] two double-[illegible] [illegible] passers a that are being [illegible] these [illegible] was due to represent Boston on the [illegible] hope this bright, we hope, May [illegible] day, while Thormahlen looked like [illegible] the leading Gotham selection. Harry Harper, by the way, is sure to start [illegible] of the [illegible] and may get in [illegible] if a severely discovered con- [illegible] attended him to the mattress.

Western Club Won But Three Games

In the series just concluded with [illegible] Sox collected seven [illegible] and [illegible] out but three. They dropped the opener to the Cleveland Indians, and then watched it rain for [illegible] days. They broke even with [illegible] White Sox in four battles [illegible] [illegible] Tigers one [illegible] and [illegible] just concluded mop [illegible] the Browns for four.

All in all, it was a great stand [illegible] have proved to be ex- [illegible] depression. The White Sox [illegible] contenders and didn't [illegible] a bit better than our local [illegible] The Browns were supposed [illegible] easy meat for them—supposed it was, [illegible] with the Indians rests [illegible] to be decided when [illegible] league visits Cleveland [illegible]

The Yanks now won six games [illegible] and have no especial terror [illegible] Yankees who were easy pick- [illegible] a set back. The Yanks are [illegible] now but the same [illegible] head of the Browns. The real [illegible] on the pitching corps is just [illegible] [illegible] with double- [illegible] [illegible] and the holiday. It [illegible] of the shark shooting Har- [illegible] [illegible] get over those two big [illegible] [illegible] Monday's [illegible] are only the Mackmen.

Fans Enjoy Real Straw Hat Day

The ultimate affair with the Browns wasn't at all thrilling, though it was enjoyable to encounter a real straw [illegible] day. The Sox started flailing [illegible] Sisler are in the [illegible] chap- [illegible] and coming all through it the [illegible] led by Urban's wildness. Our [illegible] Mebane had an [illegible] [illegible] Ruth days in fact, [illegible] getting to be a habit.

RUTH ROOTERS MUST BE PROMPT THESE DAYS

Babe Ruth is encouraging the habit of promptness among the ball fans. Many persons who formerly missed the first inning or two are now making special efforts to arrive at the games when Ruth is playing in time to see the opening skirmish, and there's a reason. They're afraid they may miss Ruth's daily home run.

EXPECTS EARLY DEAN HEARING

Guterman Notifies Important Witness Re-Opening of Case Is Probable

William de Kerlor, a New York psychologist, who was introduced into the Dean murder case by Frederic Dean, brother of the victim, Dr. William Kendrick Dean, and who served as special investigator for the town of Jaffrey, N. H., expects to go abroad early in June.

He has written to attorney Harry N. Guterman, of this city, special counsel for the town of Jaffrey, announcing that he may be away a year and consenting to defer his trip if there is any prospect of a reopening of the case which might require his presence as a witness.

HAS CASE AT HEART.

The letter follows:

"New York, May 20, 1920.

"Harry N. Guterman, Esq.,
Tremont building, Boston.

"My Dear Sir: Reading in the Boston press that you act as the town of Jaffrey's attorney, may I ask you to inform me as to whether you expect to call me before a Grand Jury in the near future, or do you think that such might be the case?

"I am about to leave the city for a 3,000-mile journey, and will appreciate your enlightening me on the above question.

"As you may have gathered from past performance, I have the Dean case very much at heart and am ready to do everything to further its chances of success.

"At this juncture, I fail to believe any possibility or willingness on the part of the New Hampshire authorities to ever call in a genuine Grand Jury to revise this case; and have made a definite engagement which will take me for the rest of the year away from this city.

"But I am willing to cancel my engagements and defer my trip abroad to appear, if necessary.

"This being the case, you will realize how anxious I am to hear from you concerning this matter.

"May I then ask you to let me know by return mail, as I have set the date of my departure for June the first? Awaiting your reply, I beg to be, truly yours,

(Signed) "W. DE KERLOR."

Attorney Guterman replied that prospects for an early re-opening of the Dean case were so promising that he thought it advisable for De Kerlor to keep him or some of the authorities posted from time to time as to his whereabouts so that his affidavit may be procured on any necessary phase. Mr. Guterman expects to interview De Kerlor in New York before his departure. He will ask him for a copy of his report on the case and any other data that may be of service.

De Kerlor, who is known in Jaffrey also under the name of "Kerl," is really one of the most important witnesses in the case, because of the close research he made for the selectmen and citizens. Arriving on the scene of the war tragedy, De Kerlor was so impressed by the mystery that he volunteered to work on it, and later was employed by the selectmen.

The young psychologist was a thorn in the side of a little group of local politicians, who were doing their utmost to protect a local assassect and to saddle guilt on the aged and invalid brother of Dr. Dean. De Kerlor found the true trail, in spite of interferences and prejudices on his path, in the county clinic, who ridiculed his efforts.

REACHED SAME CONCLUSION.

The significant feature is that every other investigator, who took up the Dean case impartially, came to the same conclusion as to two suspects outside the Dean household, and these included agents of the Department of Justice.

But you couldn't make County Solicitor Pickard see it from that angle. Two State witnesses have taken oath that Pickard told them there was "not enough money in Cheshire county to get it, ——— into this case."

De Kerlor made typewritten reports of his findings. He turned over one copy to the Department of Justice and another to County Solicitor Pickard, who boasted that he didn't give it any consideration whatever. Pickard wrote to Attorney-General Young that he considered "De Kerlor more of a hindrance than a help" and Attorney-General Young alluded to De Kerlor in his official correspondence as "that alleged detective." Grand Jurors said Pickard cut De Kerlor's testimony off abruptly.

De Kerlor appears to have stubbed his toe as an investigator when he claimed to be visualized the faces of the murderers in blood spots. Whatever merit this there are to his advanced science of research, these did not make a hit with hard-headed residents of rural sections of New Hampshire.

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub in gently with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and disfiguring of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

Face Peeling Habit Becoming Fashionable

Women of fashion and refinement seem to have been acquiring the mercolized wax habit, depending less and less upon cosmetics for their complexion difficulties. It does seem a bit queer to just peel off the worn skin when it loses its youthful color and appearance—now that this can be done so easily, painlessly and economically.

There is no trouble getting mercolized wax at any drug store (an ounce will suffice), since its use has become generally known here, and there's no trouble using it—for you use it like cold cream, applying at night, weaning it off next morning. The wax takes off the old scarf skin, in tiny flakes, a little each day. The new rose-leaf skin gradually appears, is velvety soft and beautifully white, radiant with girlish loveliness. Any surface trouble like pimples, red or yellow patches, freckles, blemishes of course with the discarded cuticle.—Advertisement.

Cal-o-cide FOOT REMEDY

Curl Hair This Way and Keep It Healthy

It has been found that the use of a harmless fluid which druggists know as "silmerine," will keep the straightest hair in curl for the longest time, giving it the appearance of true naturalness, besides keeping the hair softer and glossier than possible with the best lotion. The liquid need be applied with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, dividing the hair and brushing it from roots to tip.

The hair will be beautifully waved curling, and will be soft and fluffy and full of life, as the hair owes its welfare from a hygienic standpoint to silmerine. A few ounces of this will last for months and as it is reported to be entirely harmless, it can be adopted by the fair sex. It will stand or immerse the hair in baths, any sediment, grease or stickiness.—Advertisement.

To Make Hairs Vanish From Face, Neck or Arms

Keep a little powdered delatone handy and when hairy growths appear make a paste with some of the powder and a little water. Spread over hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or blemish. This treatment is unfailing, but care should be exercised to be sure and get genuine delatone, otherwise you may be disappointed.—Advertisement.

HEADACHE TABLETS

For Headaches and Neuralgia

Blaze in China Store

Fire of unknown origin swept through the shop of the United China Company at Nos. 31-35 Portland street, and for a time threatened to wipe out the building.

Drowsy After Eating

is often a form of indigestion and is best relieved by one or two

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets

after meals. They prevent or relieve sour risings, gassiness, water brash and such distresses due to dyspepsia or indigestion.

They supply the alkaline effect just as the stomach does when in health.

These tablets have been recommended by many physicians and are sold by all druggists at 50c a box.

"I have been Using Your Sulpherb Tablets More or Less for Many Years and Have Recommended Them to Many, Because I Think They Should Be in Every Home."

Thus writes Mr. Wm. Cameron, 1021 Fifth street, Denver, Colo., and we publish this brief statement to prove the never-ending value of Sulpherb Tablets in the treatment of such ailments as chronic constipation, impaired kidney action, and consequent impure blood manifested in many ways, such as headaches, pimples, boils, rash, hives, rheumatism, etc. Neglected constipation undoubtedly brings a long train of more serious ills and the way to get relief is to use Sulpherb Tablets as a laxative tonic blood cleanser.

They are made of extracts of herbs and roots and contain sulphur and cream of tartar, thus supplying the essentials for a regular and effective treatment. Sold by druggists everywhere at 60c per tube.—Advertisement

"Out of Bed Three Times!"

If the victim of kidney disorders and bladder irritation is compelled to arise even once in the night, there is a condition which should be promptly corrected. If arising more than once immediate attention is the part of wisdom.

Balmwort Tablets

are peculiarly fitted to promptly relieve soreness and aching in the kidney regions. They allay inflammation, restore normal secretion and correct the alkalinity of the waste secretions, and thus stop the source of irritation pain and annoyance. There are thousands of benefited users of Balmwort Kidney Tablets and all good, conscientious druggists recommend and sell them. Price, $1.00 per tube.

CORRECT KIDNEY TROUBLE

Sold by all druggists.

Little Friends of the Liver

The liver is the regulator of health. If the liver is active and well, good health and happiness prevail; but once allow your liver to get torpid and sluggish, life becomes a misery. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation, Headaches and Melancholy usually result. Don't drug your stomach, use the remedy at the seat of ill health; but remember Carter's Little Liver Pills touch the liver and correct all liver ills.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully if your object is to keep your hair and scalp in good condition. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub in. It makes a nice abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

IRISH PARADE IN DEERY'S HONOR

Society Passes Resolution Denouncing Harvard Faculty Members as Tories

Suffolk County Hibernians will take part in the parade to be held tonight through the principal streets of Malden in connection with the reception to be accorded in that city to Judge James E. Deery of Indianapolis, national president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

It is estimated that there will be approximately 2,500 men in line, representing divisions of the order in Malden, Everett, Melrose, Winchester, Wakefield, Woburn, Stoneham and other sections of Greater Boston.

The chief marshal of the parade will be Joseph A. Connolly, assisted by Maurice H. Flynn and Thomas F. Leselun, Middlesex County president of the order. Music will be furnished by the Holy Ghost Band of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of Malden, the Women's Hibernian Military Band and the Everett Boy Scout Band.

Following the parade there will be a mass meeting in Columbus Hall, Rev. Richard J. Neagle, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Malden, will preside.

RECEPTION TO O'CONNELL.

President John J. Foley of the Central Council of Irish County Associations today announced that members of other Irish and kindred societies are invited to take part in the reception to be tendered to Daniel T. O'Connell in Historic Hall, No. 1651 Washington street, Sunday night.

Arrangements for the State championship competition in Irish step and figure dancing have been completed by the Roger Casement Branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom. The contest will be held in Corinthian Hall, South End, Monday evening, June 2. Entries must be in the hands of Thomas P. Sullivan, secretary, No. 3 Pembroke street, by Tuesday night.

The following resolution was passed by the Roger Casement Branch:

"We sincerely regret to see that President Lowell and twenty-nine members of the faculty of Harvard College are endeavoring to perpetuate the traditions of the enemies of liberty in 1776, as clamored for the blood of George Washington and our Revolutionary fathers.

"A Tree Ireland, Harvard professors to the contrary notwithstanding, is essential to the peace and good will between the English-speaking people. British Imperialism, which President Lowell applauds, is the greatest foe to the liberty, peace and justice throughout the world."

In Fraternity Hall, Milton, tonight the Thomas McCurtin Branch of the Friends of Irish Freedom will hold its first whist party and entertainment. Malachi Ryan heads the committee of arrangements. President Coleman McDonough will have charge of the speaking exercises.

Houston Preaches Creed of Thrift

New York, May 27.—Secretary of the Treasury Houston declared America can only readjust her economic conditions if the people exercise the utmost economicalness and thrift in their every-day life. He asserted that the money spent for luxuries during 1919 was equal to the national debt of $22,000,000,000.

"It is absolutely necessary that the people of this country act with conservatism and with the exercise of great thrift," he revealed. "The United States should not only pay its floating indebtedness of $2,000,000,000, but also refund as large a part as possible of the victory loans on the date of maturity."

The secretary recommended the abolishment of the excess profits tax and repealed his opposition to the soldier bonus legislation.

OPPOSE SALE OF U. S. SHIPS

Senators and Representatives Will Fight Bill to Dispose of Merchant Marine

Washington, May 27.—Opposition to the shipping bill, now in conference, which would turn over to the Shipping Trust the government's merchant marine of more than 1,500 vessels, including the great German liners and permit them to fall into the hands of foreign owners, continued to develop in both Houses of Congress today.

Senators whose attention was directed to the drastic anti-American provisions of the legislation by the Hearst newspapers' exposure declared stop-gap measures were taken on them in the passage of the measure through the Senate.

These Senators said the bill was rushed to a vote without notice and only a few members were in the chamber at the time.

Senators expressing these views were Capper of Kansas, Lenroot of Wisconsin, Poindexter of Washington, King of Utah, Chamberlain of Oregon and others. Senator Chamberlain, who is one of the conferees, was particularly vigorous in his denunciation of the effort to force sales of the ships. He said:

"The people do not want the ships sold, and it was their money that built them. It looks as though they seems to want these ships sold to John Barton Payne, former chairman of the Shipping Board."

Members of the house likewise were aroused by the exposure of the facts below which would be delivered against the hopes of the American people for an adequate merchant marine if the pending bill should become a law.

Representative Hardy, Democrat, of Texas, one of the House conferees declared he would carry his opposition to the conference.

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

MAY 27, 1920 BOSTON

MEASURES THAT WOULD CURE MOST OF THE TROUBLES AND TENDENCIES WHICH DISTRESS AND ALARM US TODAY

(1) To nominate for the Presidency by direct nomination and to elect by popular vote.
(2) To elect the Cabinet officers and make them responsible to Congress.
(3) To deprive the President of the power of patronage; to put all public offices as nearly as possible under Civil Service, and have appointments made by a committee of Congress.
(4) To elect Federal Judges, including the Supreme Court Justices, by popular vote.
(5) To apply the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall to national matters.

What Are YOU Doing About This Important Matter?

This editorial is directed at YOU. It is to call YOUR attention to the fact that YOU have a duty to perform and should perform it at once.

Did you get YOUR MAIL this morning on time? If you did, it was because a number of men in the service of the United States made a personal sacrifice to deliver it to you.

Did you receive YOUR MONEY from Chicago or New York or San Francisco on time today so that you were able to meet that note in bank? If you did, it was because any number of men throughout the country worked sixteen hours a day in order that the mails might move and move properly.

Did you enter a CLEAN, WELL-SWEPT AND WHOLESOME office or store or factory to work in today? If you did, remember that the railway postal clerks and other postal employes work in ill-ventilated, dirty, dusty bins, coal holes and cellars in order that you may conduct your business properly.

Did YOU FEEL ILL this morning and conclude that it would be better to lay off from business for a day so that your work would be improved by caring for yourself? Remember that the postal clerks and the letter carriers are docked if sickness compels them to take to their beds, and that even if they are dying they must pay for that luxury out of their own pockets.

Citizens, it is YOUR DUTY to send the appeal to Congress that is published elsewhere on this page. Not only should YOU SEND this appeal to YOUR SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS, but you should send them an urgent telegram and follow it up with a personal letter, and let them know that the postal employes of the United States should be cared for.

What is wanted is not charity or a bonus. What they should have and must have is a proper living wage. Remember that the postal clerks and letter carriers of Boston and of Massachusetts are merely one part of the great Federal postal system. If YOU can impress the members of Congress with the necessity of sitting in session until the report of the commission who investigated the postal system is acted upon, you will be doing a humane, business-like and patriotic thing.

Milk Situation in Bay State Becomes Alarming

The situation with respect to milk in Massachusetts is really very alarming. We have not in Massachusetts as many cows as we had before the Civil War, two generations ago.

In those days when we had a thousand milk distributors and every milk man sold his own milk to his own few customers, we had a great herd of two hundred thousand cows supplying less than half the population which we now have in Massachusetts. Today we have a third less cows supplying more than twice the population.

What is to be done? Milk is the most perfect food known. It is the cheapest food under normal conditions. It is inconceivable that as our population has increased and the price of milk has increased four-fold our farmers cannot make money by raising milk. That is a condition which is not natural and is without rhyme or reason. Milk is so essential to the health of a race that we must do something to protect it.

Milk is a prime necessity of life. It is more necessary than woolen or cotton goods or tin plates or anything else that receives a bounty from our country in the form of a tariff which the American people have to pay in order to protect their industries.

If it is right to pay these industries a bounty under the tariff to maintain them and obtain for them a profit at the expense of the American people, and we do not say that it is not right, then it is certainly right to do something to aid the farmer in the production of milk. The difficulty with aiding in the production of milk is the fear of the people that the farmers will not get it, but that it will in some way or other be absorbed by the milk distributors.

Sooner or later we shall probably have to come to public distribution of milk. It would be a perfectly easy thing for the State to collect and distribute the milk at cost, we could ascertain exactly what the farmers should be paid in order to encourage them to keep cows, pay it and then distribute the milk at cost to the people. We shall then be sure we are getting what we pay for in milk.

Our government cannot stand still in this situation. We are breaking down all along the line. Senator Walsh, in his speech in the Senate the other day, declared that if the government did not extend its function and show itself capable of dealing with these situations the people would substitute another form of government which the advocates of it claim is capable of dealing with modern conditions of profiteering and extortion under private monopoly.

The reactionary says that we must not extend the functions of the State because it is a step toward Socialism, but the extension of the functions of the State into a new field to take the place of private enterprise which has become a monopoly and which is exercising the power of monopoly to extort, is not a step toward Socialism, but is a step to prevent Socialism from being precipitated by the private monopoly which the government is obliged to put out of business by substituting itself for the private monopoly in order to prevent the public, as it nearly always does in its wrath, from adopting a more radical cure than is necessary.

The makers of Socialists today are those who are creating for their own private wealth monopolies in industry and in commerce and under that monopoly are extorting monopolistic prices. It is the creation of the private monopoly which is the step toward Socialism and not the extension of the government into that business in order to correct the evils of private monopoly.

The first is the cause and the second is only the result, but it is an inevitable, necessary result if we are not going to be precipitated the whole distance of Socialism.

Who Said the World Was Gloomy?

By S. E. KISER

GEE, but I feel glad this morning!
So you needn't waste your breath,
If you think you should be warning
Me to be prepared for death.
Please don't try to make me fearful,
For my fears are on the shelf;
Yesterday a lovely, cheerful
Lady handed me an earful
Of nice things about myself.

ALL the world looks fine and dandy
As it spreads before my view,
And I'll not consent to bandy
Gloomy prophecies with you.
With my belt hitched one hole tighter
Than it was a month ago,
I am stepping higher, lighter,
And the outlook's fairer, brighter—
None but bracing breezes blow.

WASTE no words in saying to me
That conditions are all wrong;
I've no time for being gloomy
Since I'm feeling fit and strong.
There are matters to be mended—
We will right them all in time—
Neither faith nor hope is ended,
Freedom still is well defended,
And our blessings are sublime.

SHE, enchanted me completely;
Beautiful and not too coy,
And she whispered very sweetly
That I still looked like a boy!
Gee, how all the world is glowing!
Fragrant blossoms everywhere;
Cheer in every breeze that's blowing,
Songs wherever streams are flowing,
And the prospects all so fair!

Ye TOWNE GOSSIP

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

MY Dear Ken—Well, here I am back again.

Between you and me we have the greatest picture of the year in "Humoresque," which opens for an indefinite run at the Criterion Theatre next Sunday, May 30.

Don't think that I am hinting that I would like to have you write something about it. Far be it from me. All I am asking is that you come down and take a glimpse at it in our projection room.

The picture is chockful of mother love and all the pathos of "The Music Master," and the humor of "Potash and Perlmutter." Honestly, I think it is the logical successor to "The Miracle Man," and I hope you will come and look at it.

With kindest personal regards to yourself and Mrs. Beaton, sincerely yours, THEODORE C. DEITRICH.

New York.

MY DEAR Deit.
FAR BE it from me.
TO QUESTION your judgment.
ABOUT "HUMORESQUE."
AND I have no doubt.
THAT IT'S everything.
THAT YOU say it is.
AND I hope it is.
BUT SO many times.
HAVE I been invited.
TO PRIVATE showings.
WITH TWO or three persons.
INCLUDING THE owner.
AND THE director.
AND MAYBE the press agent.
AND WE all sit there.
IN THE little room.
AND THE picture begins.
AND I keep waiting.
TO FIND a place.
WHERE I can enthuse.
AND IT doesn't come.
AND THE chances are.
IT'S HOT in the room.
AND I'M perspiring.
AND I must say something.
AND SO I say.
"IT'S CERTAINLY fine."
AND CHOKE a little.
AND IT'S just like that.
ALL THROUGH the picture.
AND WHEN it's over.
I LOOK at my watch.
AND SAY I have to hurry.
AND BEAT it away.
BUT ONCE in a while.
OF COURSE, it happens.
THAT THE picture's good.
AND I don't have to lie.
AND WHEN it's over.
I DON'T have to hurry.
AND I stick around.
AND TALK about it.
AND I'M very sure.
IT WOULD be that way.
WITH "HUMORESQUE."
BUT IF you don't mind.
I'LL GO and see it.
WHEN IT'S in the theatre.

I THANK you.

PETITION TO CONGRESS

To the Congress of the United States:

I appeal to the members of Congress to use their influence in securing the passage of legislation which will provide a suitable, living wage for the employes of the postal service.

I ask that some action be taken to prevent the continued and increasing number of resignations of highly-trained, capable and efficient employes, who are forced to seek other lines of business, with a consequent impairment of the postal service.

I appeal to Congress for immediate action, on the part of two hundred and fifty thousand postal employes, in order to save the postal service from complete collapse.

'Gay Paree' Must Put Out Its Lights and Retire at 10 P. M.

"GAY PAREE," acknowledged for centuries as the world's centre of gaiety, the one spot on the globe where the tired business man was certain to find relaxation, enjoyment and other gay pleasures to his heart's content without the interference of the morally censorious, is up in arms.

The powers that be have declared that the great French capital shall shut its cafes, put out its lights and go soberly to bed at 10 o'clock—the mere beginning of the evening, according to Paris standards.

There is, however, a very important motive back of the curfew order which comes, by the way, not from the municipal authorities, but from the Prefect of Police, a government official. The curfew order is explained as being necessary to conserve fuel. It is known, however, that it is in reality due to the desire not to enrage the half-starved working people of the city by the sight of exotic luxury and dissipation.

So, until prices drop at least, Gay Paree ceases to exist. She becomes merely a large city like any other large city. An article and illustrations dealing with this surprising edict appear in the next Boston Sunday Advertiser.

How is Mary Pickford spending her honeymoon? Public interest in the little film star has been greatly strengthened by her romantic marriage to Douglas Fairbanks, coming on the heels of her divorce from Owen Moore, and the subsequent efforts of the State of Nevada to have the Pickford-Moore divorce set aside.

The Magazine Section of the Boston Sunday Advertiser on Sunday will contain a full page of pictures and reading matter describing the honeymoon which Mary and her actor husband are spending at Beverly Hills, near Hollyhood, Cal.

A little Brooklyn girl is either a remarkable liar or else the victim of terrible bodily abuse. Minnie Gallender, found wandering about in a dazed condition by a sympathetic police officer, exhibited to the authorities a mass of scars, burns and welts which almost covered her little body, and seemed to tell a story of shocking cruelty on the part of her father and stepmother, whom she accused.

An interesting discussion of the case, in which physicians describe the mental condition which might bring a girl to torture herself in this manner and then lie about it, appears in the Magazine Section of the next Boston Sunday Advertiser.

More revelations of the life of Mrs. Amanda Caskie Thomas, the woman who was left the bulk of the vast estate of Theodore P. Shonts, late New York traction magnate, have come to light.

It may be possible to make a star of the footlights for $50, but the federal postoffice authorities have their doubts of it. That is why they are prosecuting Mr. Alexander Light, a gentleman who advertised extensively in the New York papers that he was prepared to carry out this seemingly impossible feat for the amount named. The story in full appears in the Magazine Section of the Boston Sunday Advertiser on Sunday.

Letters to the Editor

Ice Profiteering

Editor Boston American:

I am writing to show up one of the worst lines of profiteering that has been recently overlooked, the ice business. This thing of cheating customers on weight has been going on for some time, and something ought to be done. Here is an example: I ordered fifty pounds, all my ice chest will hold; the man brings it, it fills the space; he demands 60 cents and claims it to be 100 pounds. I protested, upon which he took it back and brought another piece supposed to be fifty pounds at 30 cents. I put that on the scales, and it weighed twenty-eight pounds. When I called his attention to that I was told if I did not like it I could lump it, and if I made any more fuss I would not get any. I live in Jamaica Plain, but from what I hear this fraud is carried on all over the city. A. A. F.

Reply to Dr. Eliot

Editor Boston American:

Your past record has spoken for itself with regard to favoring a bonus bill for the soldiers, sailors and marines. A recent article written by ex-President Eliot of Harvard has at last spurred me to write a few words in response.

Dr. Eliot, we soldiers, sailors and marines are not asking for a disruption of this grand country of ours. In cases too numerous to mention it will be found that everything that was held dear to us has been lost. It is glory and honor to be able to say that we have participated in the World War over there, but is it glory to lose our homes, our fortunes and positions in life for the benefit of those who find time for nothing else but to "cry poverty" at our endeavor to equalize the division of the profits?

Criticism of our desire for adjusted compensation, that will give us a chance to make good again in civil life, by distinguished old pedagogues is testimony that their patriotism is more academic than real and that they are completely out of touch with the grateful spirit of Americanism that cheered us going away and hugged us coming back.

FRANK L. DENNIS,
Ex-Marine.

Give the People a Chance

Editor Boston American:

I noticed in the evening American, May 24, that sealed bids were asked, by the army, for supplies of canned beans and other canned meats. Now, why shouldn't the public be allowed to buy this food in small quantities instead of selling it to the dealers? It seems that the public would be better served in this way and not allow the army food, which belongs to the people, to get into the hands of the dealers, where the public will get very little, if any, benefit from it. AN EX-SOLDIER.
